Words from the Mayor

Ladies and Gentlemen,

It is with great pleasure that I present the first edition of Lévignac sur Save's welcome guide for new residents.

Almost 60 of you and your families move to Lévignac each year and this guide will help you get quickly acquainted with the area. I hope that it will make your day-to-day that little bit easier and that you will find lots of useful information inside to help you settle into the village.

In addition to this guide, please take a look at the Lévignac website (www.mairie-levignac.com) for details of all the cultural and recreational activities on offer, as well as the events organised in the village throughout the year.

The Town Council*, its employees and the CCAS* join me in welcoming you to our beautiful village. We are thrilled to have you here and to welcome you into our community.

These activities are based on the school's educational programme, the values of which centre on respecting rules, participation and involvement, mutual aid and community spirit, experience-sharing, autonomy and excellence, expression, personal development and returning to basic values.

A single team coordinate the activities for all the services provided by the organisation.

Lévignac Youth Policy

Residential camps

Around 40 children and teenagers have the opportunity to go on residential camps at a reduced cost thanks to a means-tested pricing policy. Implemented by the Town Hall, this policy enables beneficiaries to obtain financial aid from the CAF* and/or from the CCAS.

There are two options available:

- Winter camp, which lasts one week, allows local 7- to 16- year-olds to go on a crazy winter adventure led by their activity coordinators.
- Summer camps, of varying durations, include a residential stay for kids aged 10-12 years and another for teenagers aged 12-17 years. The young people themselves can participate in choosing the destination if they wish.

As demand is high for these residential camps, registration must be submitted 4-5 months in advance.

Friday night activities

Every Friday night during term time, two activity coordinators entertain local youngsters at the tennis clubhouse from 20:30 to 22:30. Depending on their interests, activities, film/sports event screenings or trips are offered.

To participate, please provide a completed registration form, acceptance of both the terms and conditions and the educational programme, as well as an annual subscription of €10 to €50 depending on your family quotient*.

Local Youth Council // Community Youth Projects

The CMJ* is a genuine, functioning council bringing together children and teenagers who are either volunteers or elected every two years. Just like the actual Town Council, it meets once every two weeks according to a pre-defined calendar, serves as an advisory body and is a creative force within the community.

The CMJ is a means to facilitate dialogue between young people and adults; a way to learn about democracy. It enables local young people to develop projects that impact as many people as possible, to defend them in front of town councillors and to implement them if they are approved.

Being a member of the CMJ also means getting involved in village life by participating in community projects and symbolic events, for example commemorations, senior citizen's dinners, the Mayor's New Year's address, the Music Festival and the construction of the skate park and children's play park.

With regards to decisions made by the CMJ, community projects allow local individuals and associations to request one-off assistance or ask for projects to be implemented; for example, the local road safety day, the young DJ set at the music festival and the production of a book for the centenary of the First World War.

The aim of the community youth project scheme is to allow young people to get involved in local projects.

Youth volunteering projects*

These volunteering schemes bring together young people aged 11 to 17 years to participate in community projects. Lasting between 3 and 5 days scheduled over the Spring and Autumn school holidays, they aim to develop community spirit in the young people of Lévignac.

A team of 12 young people carry out renovation works on public areas in the village (in line with the decisions taken by the CMJ); in exchange, they receive funding for recreational activities. This year, the volunteering projects have enabled certain buildings in the village to be renovated.

Next year, young locals hope to be able to assist residents directly.

- Animals in the village

To ensure peaceful co-existence between man and beast, please keep dogs on a leash and muzzle them if they have a tendency to be aggressive on walks. In addition, for the benefit of the children who play in the village and for all those who walk around it, please remember to pick up their waste.

Dogs should not disturb or cause a nuisance to neighbours, for instance as a result of barking.

Please take the necessary precautions to prevent any issues.

Multimedia library

On the premises of the old train station you will find the multimedia library; a friendly place dedicated to culture, and open to the general public. Its adult's and children's collections total over 8,000 pieces in a range of formats: books, comic books, sheet music, DVDs and CDs.

Children's section

The children's section comprises baby books, fairy tales and story books, paperback fiction and a wide range of books and DVD documentaries covering all areas of knowledge. Comic books, fiction and animated DVDs also feature prominently, as do children's music CDs, musical tales and other nursery rhymes from here and there.

Adult's section

The adult section consists of a considerable stock of fiction, alongside a "local collection" which rounds up regional works, as well as a selection of ancient and contemporary history pieces, books on current political and economic affairs and philosophical texts.

Audio and video libraries

The audio and video libraries offer an eclectic mix of music (classical, French and international, jazz, blues, rock, folk, world music etc.) and a cinema collection comprising classic works and recent releases, which are regularly replaced and updated.

Communication through reading and cultural activities

During the shorter school holidays, Nathalie, the library's storyteller, invites children to spend an afternoon discovering the magical world of tales from all over the world. Meet-ups and activities are also organised by the library team, such as the monthly book club that focuses on one book and its author, as well as readings of selected texts followed by drinks and nibbles.
